ENDURING

George T. Springer opened Springer's Jewelers in 1870 in Saccarappa, the village now known as Westbrook, Maine. In 1900 he moved the business to Portland and later sold it to Edmond Beaulieu Sr.

Four generations of the Beaulieu family have run it since. Today sisters Lilly Beaulieu Mullen and Zoe Beaulieu Garcia lead one of the oldest jewelry stores in New England.

THE 1870 COLLECTION

Since 2014 we have reset vintage stones bought from clients and estates into one-of-a-kind jewelry, named for the year Springer's was founded.

VICTORIAN & ART DECO

Victorian, circa 1837 to 1901. Art Deco brought bolder lines, brighter color and geometric forms.
